F3 Law Announce ISTE Certification for Course on Legal and Ethical AI Use in Education

SAN DIEGO, CA – March 25, 2025 – Leading education law firm F3 Law, in collaboration with Computer-Using Educators (CUE) and AI Educators, is proud to announce that their groundbreaking course, “Navigating Legal and Ethical Boundaries in the AI Classroom,” has achieved prestigious International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) certification.

This comprehensive course, specifically designed for educators, addresses the critical need to understand the legal and ethical implications of the rapidly increasing integration of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in schools. The ISTE certification underscores the course’s high quality and alignment with internationally recognized standards for technology in education.

“We are thrilled that ‘Navigating Legal and Ethical Boundaries in the AI Classroom’ has earned ISTE certification,” said Gretchen Shipley, Partner at F3 Law. “This recognition further validates the importance and rigor of this program, which equips educators with the essential knowledge to use AI effectively, legally, and responsibly.”

The “Navigating Legal and Ethical Boundaries in the AI Classroom” course covers eight comprehensive modules:

- AI 101: Key Terms & Concepts
- Benefits and Risks of AI Tools
- Safeguarding Student Data
- Partnering With Parents for AI Adoption
- Choosing the Right AI Tools
- Proactive Threat Detection
- Confronting Bias in AI
