F3 Law Honored in UCLA Alumni Association's Prestigious 2025 Bruin Business 100

Los Angeles, CA – Fagen Friedman & Fulfroft LLP (F3 Law) is exceptionally proud to announce that four of its distinguished partners, Howard Fulfroft, Diane Marshall-Freeman, Jonathan Read, and Carlos Villegas, have been named as honorees in the UCLA Alumni Association's 2025 Bruin Business 100. This esteemed program recognizes exceptional UCLA alumni who are founders, owners, and visionaries making a significant impact through their businesses.

The Bruin Business 100 celebrates alumni who are not only achieving entrepreneurial success but are also dedicated to “uplifting their customers and communities alike.” The UCLA Alumni Association commends these individuals who are making a meaningful impact through their businesses.

“We are incredibly honored to be recognized among such an inspiring group of Bruin leaders,” said Howard Fulfroft. “It’s a privilege to be named among such a talented and innovative group of Bruin founders, owners, and visionaries.”

This recognition underscores F3 Law’s strong ties to the UCLA community and its pride in fostering a culture of entrepreneurship and impactful leadership, a commitment demonstrated as the firm supports hundreds of educational institutions (schools, districts, offices of education, and beyond) by providing the support and leadership necessary to help them achieve their missions and ultimately ensure schools help students thrive.

The full list of the 2025 Bruin Business 100 honorees can be viewed on the UCLA Alumni Association website: <https://alumni.ucla.edu/bruin-business-100-2025/>
