

F3 Law

Anisha Asher

she/her/hers

Associate

San Diego

aasher@f3law.com

D 760.304.6039

What can I solve for you?

I advise clients on an array of special education and student services matters and have successfully represented them in due process hearings. In addition, I am committed to helping school districts create and maintain the best possible environments for learning.

What's it like to work with me?

I'm proud to work alongside our clients to meet the needs of California public school students. It's satisfying to help school districts solve problems—or direct them to the person who can best help them. I'm very thorough and efficient in everything I do. When I present clients with recommendations and options, I know that I've thought through all potential next steps and their likely consequences, not only for my clients, but also for their students and school community.

"I am proud to work alongside our clients to meet the needs of public school students in California."

Overview

---

Anisha Asher focuses her practice on special education and student services matters and due process hearings. Always striving to resolve problems as early as possible, Anisha looks to craft mutually acceptable outcomes to student discipline challenges. When a due process hearing is necessary, she competently guides and advocates for her clients while keeping in mind the larger purpose—providing all students a safe and appropriate learning environment. Anisha’s professional, engaging and student-centric approach helps preserve relationships between school districts and the families they serve.

Clients rely on Anisha’s expertise in the area of student access and privacy to provide appropriate resources and facilities to students, how schools can best support students, and how they can optimally communicate with parents, families and the greater school community regarding student privacy.

Anisha communicates in clear, understandable terms and crafts compelling narratives that get her points across effectively. She calibrates her messages to meet the needs of her audiences, whether they’re clients, colleagues, judges or school parents and families. A skilled public speaker, Anisha delivers interactive presentations on student privacy issues, manifestation determinations, compensatory education following the COVID-19 pandemic and Section 504 matters at various conferences throughout California, as well as for school districts and SELPA clients.

Prior to joining F3, Anisha worked at the California Department of Rehabilitation and Neighborhood Legal Services of Los Angeles County, where she gained valuable experience in a variety of legal issues, including those pertaining to employment, consumer healthcare programs and special education. During law school, she clerked for the Learning Rights Law Center and the National Center for Youth Law. Prior to pursuing her law career, she was a Corps Member with JusticeCorps.

Experience Highlights

---

- Executive editor for the Michigan Journal of Race & Law

Clerkships

- Learning Rights Law Center
- National Center for Youth Law

Fellowships

- Bergstrom Child Welfare Law Fellowship

- John Paul Stevens Public Interest Fellowship
- Asian Pacific American Law Students Association 1L Public Interest Fellowship

After School

---

In my free time I enjoy reading a wide range of fiction, especially historical fiction, and trying (failing) to leash-train my cats.

Education

---

- University of Michigan Law School (J.D.)
- University of California, Los Angeles (B.A., Linguistics, cum laude)

Admissions

---

Bar Admissions

- California

Related Services

---

- Education Technology
- Special Education
- Student Rights & Discipline
- Virtual Learning

Related Clients

---

- Public Education K-12

Languages

---

- Spanish

Presentations

---

- "My Name Is...: A Legal and Practical Framework for Affirming Students' Identities in the School Setting" January 2022 ACSA Every Child Counts Symposium and the May 2022 ACSA Lead With Pride Summit.
- Manifestation Determination Reviews October 2022 California Association of School Psychologists Annual Convention
- COVID-19 Litigation and Compensatory Education - Where Are We Now? January 2023 ACSA Every Child Counts Symposium