What can I solve for you?

Drawing on the skills I've learned in more than two decades of working with sophisticated technology, I help F3 Law attorneys and other professionals on the full spectrum of IT matters. This enhances their ability to serve our clients.

What's it like to work with me?

I bring a range of valuable technical skills and a broad knowledge base to my job. It's gratifying to draw on them to help the firm function more smoothly and efficiently. I'm a practical problem solver with a calm, patient approach to interacting with employees who possess a wide range of computer proficiency.

Overview

With 23 years of experience in information technology, James Yoon oversees F3's computer systems and helps the firm use digital resources and electronic tools to the benefit of colleagues and clients alike.

As head of IT operations, James manages and leads the team to get every job done with a customer-service focus. Maintaining certifications from Microsoft and Cisco, he enjoys applying his ample experience and acumen to help solve a variety of issues large and small by implementing technological solutions.

F3 employees appreciate James' personable, down-to-earth style and his skill in imparting information in a way that they can understand, no matter their level of prowess. He strives to demystify technology and educate firm employees on pragmatic applications so they can confidently put them to good use in service to the firm's laudable educational organization clients.

After School

In addition to spending time with my family, I really enjoy snowboarding. I primarily go boarding at California's Mammoth Mountain, but I'm also looking forward to visiting some of the out-of-state resorts in the future.
