What can I solve for you?

As a former teacher, I am committed to using my background to bridge the gap between the education and legal fields.

What's it like to work with me?

Clients value my attention to detail and advocacy skills, as well as my dedication and ethical commitments.

Becoming an attorney is a second career for me so it was critical I found an area of law that I was passionate about and where I could make a meaningful impact for my clients.

Overview

Katie Yoshida's experience spans business, facilities, real estate and governance matters. She supports school districts across the Sacramento area with a keen eye for detail, collaborative spirit, and deep understanding of the unique needs of educational institutions.

Katie spent a decade as a general education teacher and understands the intricate interplay between school districts and families. She leverages her certification in Multicultural Bilingual Education to seamlessly serve students from a multitude of cultures and backgrounds. Katie uses her understanding of teaching methods and curriculums to extend her value beyond standard legal issues.

Katie's teaching experiences—from international schools to the United States Department of Education—give her a diverse and creative perspective. Building strong relationships and exceeding expectations are hallmarks of her dedication, ensuring clients receive not only exceptional legal counsel but also unwavering support.

After School

Outside the office, I love cheering on my sons as they play sports. I enjoy listening to podcasts, baking cookies, and being outdoors.
